Community Watch

Adopted November 9, 2024

AUTHORITY:
Utah Code Annotated, 17B-1-201 (1953)
Washington County Resolution R-2008-1233

In accordance with the statutes cited above, which establishes the Pine Valley Local Administrative District (hereafter PVLAD), and authorizes the PVLAD to “provide extended police protection services”, the Pine Valley Community Watch Program (hereafter referred to as “CW”) operates under the direction of the Washington County Sheriff’s Office (WCSO) Patrol Division.

In the absence of exigent circumstances (i.e. requiring immediate action or aid) the Community Watch Director reports to the WCSO Patrol Division Chief Deputy or his designated representative with the PVLAD Board providing oversight. The CW Director will keep the PVLAD Board apprised of any ongoing CW operations or activities.

At the request of the WCSO, the CW may implement and/or conduct extended police protection services as permitted and authorized by the Patrol Division Chief Deputy.

If the WCSO is incapacitated or otherwise absent or incapable of responding or providing necessary law enforcement services to Pine Valley, or if communications systems (the 911 emergency dispatch system, Everbridge Dispatch notifications, cell phone and landline communications, Utah state L3Harris radio network, etc.) are inoperative for an extended period, the Pine Valley Local Administrative District (PVLAD) Board may activate the CW.

When activated, the CW is managed by the CW Director, who reports to the PVLAD Board.
If there is a loss of confidence, the PVLAD Board may remove or replace the CW Director by majority vote.

The CW is funded and equipped as needed by the Pine Valley Local Administrative District as determined by majority vote of the Board members.
