There were no Pine Valley building permits to be considered during the past month.

Ron mentioned that the Five County AOG Hazardous Materials Mutual Aid Agreement, which each board member has had a chance to read, and said that the board members need to sign the main agreement. This agreement commits the various Washington County Organizations to mutually aid each other in the event of a hazardous materials incident.

None of the board members had any reports to present at this time.

Pine Valley Fire Chief, Dall Winn reported the follow items:

- we have received all of the grant monies and they have been deposited. Turnout gear and radios have been ordered and we are working on patches. We will be looking at more grant applications and some fire department members will attend a meeting in Cedar City, Utah later this month to learn about processes for FEMA, BLM and Fire Academy grants.
- about nine (9) Pine Valley Fire Department volunteers will attend Wildland Fire Training in Newcastle later this month.
- a countywide Emergency Planning Committee has been organized and will meet in St. George on February 10-12, 2003. Dall Winn and Gerald Schiefer will attend. There will be possible grants from FEMA, BLM and the State Fire Academy. Fees are $25 each which will be covered in the approved Pine Valley Fire Department funds.
- Hazmat Awareness training will be held at the Pine Valley Fire Station on February 6, 2003 at 6:00 pm.
- there is budget cutting legislation pending in the Utah State Legislature that could seriously affect the Utah State Fire Academy and we need to contact our legislators if we can.
- new shelving and gear racks have been completed for firemen and the EMTs.

- we need to send thank you notes to Sunroc and several others who have donated to our department.

Fred Pendelton, Chairman of the Pine Valley Historical Advisory Committee reported that John Willie has a summary of the committee accomplishments and that the community survey is done and ready to be mailed. There is a vacancy on the committee and anyone interested could contact him. The regular Pine Valley Historical Advisory Committee meeting will be held Thursday, February 6,2003 at 6:00 pm, in the Pine Valley Fire Department Conference Room.

Trinilee Christensen a Historical Advisory Committee member reported on her work and research about the Washington County Fair Princess Pageant. She handed out some information and said she had looked into what other towns in Washington County are doing. The Pageant and princess responsibilities are based on specific rules and regulations and a princess must do both town and county events. The contest is open to girls between ages 14 to 17 and a scholarship is offered to girls in the 16 and 17 year age group. A princess should be selected in the month of February.

To fully participate, Pine Valley community would need a Pine Valley Princess Director to be a liaison with the Washington County Director. The board discussed various options at length and decided to notify Washington County that we would be independent of other cities and towns, and that we would not have a princess candidate this year. We will have a director appointed by next January when we may be able to participate again.

Steve Robinson, representing Washington County Planning and Zoning reported the following items:

- the commission continues their work on sexually oriented businesses and may recommend creation of a new zone called "industrial" that would allow business of this type, and would eliminate the Pine Valley Commercial Zone. The commission expects to have a draft ready for public review by May, 2003.
- the Forest Service is going to start over on their environment work to refurbish their recreation areas after being challenged on their first attempt. They still hope to be in construction by 2004.

Public Discussion Items:

Gilbert Bush brought up the issue of newspapers in the post office and suggested a coin operated box to control the theft of papers. The board discussed this issue knowing that it was technically not their responsibility. Ron suggested a box solution for now and Lee will call the Spectrum to arrange it.

Julie reminded the board members that there is need for Special Service District training. The board discussed expenses in bringing a representative from the Utah Special Service District Board for the training and it was suggested that perhaps we could combine a training with other Special Service Districts. The board preferred having Jan Furner come here rather than the members travel and have evening sessions rather than a Saturday. Lee said that perhaps he could provide Jan's meals and lodging. We also need to review the Pine Valley Special Service District's Charter when Mr. Furner comes.

Beverly Udell gave an update on the Personal Ponies project and expressed thanks to Bob Herpel and the people in Pine Valley for their support.

Jack Homer asked about getting a flag pole and flag for the Pine Valley Fire Station\ Post Office. The board agreed that there should be a flag. Jack volunteered to do the legwork to get prices and the Fire Department would install it.

Vicki Frei moved to authorize Jack Homer to do research on prices for a pole and two flags (Utah State and United State flags). Ryon Gardner seconded the motion which carried.

There being no further business. Vicki Frei moved and Lee Carlile seconded a motion to adjourn. The motion passed and the meeting adjourned at 7:35 pm.
